Mandarin Chinese is the most widely-spoken language in the world. If you learn to speak Mandarin, you can speak with millions of people around the world. This class will provide an opportunity to experience a taste of the language and culture of the Chinese, traditional Chinese paper cut and much more fun games.

Modern neurological research reveals that reading the ideographic Chinese script stimulates the right side of the brain, whilst speech functions are localized on the left, thus promoting more productive and holistic use of the brain. It also stimulates development of the brain from a young age. Our program has been customized based on the student's age.
